PROFILE

Versatile professional with a strong ability to adapt and learn quickly. Experienced in process optimization, data analysis, and business intelligence, with a Bachelor's degree in Economics and a Master's in Business Internationalization. I've applied my skills in the banking sector for over three years, where I successfully automated reporting processes, cutting delivery time by 50%. I've also taken on leadership roles in a startup environment, keeping the team motivated and consistently meeting production goals. I'm eager for the opportunity to contribute, grow, and make a real impact together.
